

The Year in Review and Key Developments on Property Division, Agreements, and Exclusions Tracing

presented by: Todd Bell

Todd Bell will review key decisions from the Court of Appeal over the last year – including the first appellate treatment on tracing methodology, summarize important recent developments in property division, and address the sanctity (or not) of written agreements.

About Todd Bell: Todd Bell is an experienced litigator and trial lawyer. He also mediates, arbitrates, and settles matters through various forms of agreement. Todd has wide-ranging courtroom experience spanning all levels of Court in British Columbia. Todd's practice areas include the division of high-net-worth assets including complex corporate structures, trusts, real estate, and pensions. He regularly litigates high income determinations and has written extensively on the subject. His practice includes difficult parenting and custody disputes, as well as obtaining emergency protection relief from family violence.

Date:	Thursday, May 22, 2025
Time:	12:30 PM - 2:00 PM
Where:	The training will be online via Zoom
Credits:	1.5 hours of CPD (approval pending)
Cost:	Free for members of the BC Collaborative Roster Society Non-Members $52.50 ($50 + $2.50 GST)

Proceeds of this course will go to support the Pro Bono Collaborative Family Law Project.

Please RSVP to info@bccollaborativerostersociety.com if you wish to attend.

Non-members please E-transfer your payment to: info@bccollaborativerostersociety.com If you are not able to e-transfer, please mail your cheque payable to 'BC Collaborative Roster Society' to #105 – 1500 Howe Street, Vancouver, BC V6Z 2N1.